

Buddha Birth Day Festival 2008

South Bank Parklands 2 May – 4 May

Buddha Turns

GREEN

The Buddha Birth Day Festival concerned about its own impact on the environment is turning Buddha GREEN.

This initiative goes beyond carbon footprint reductions and is promoting innovative and practical actions that will reduce the Festival's environmental impact.

The campaign launches with the lighting of 2,000 Chinese lanterns in the Parklands and fitted with energy saving globes kindly donated by Bunnings.

During the Festival, the Brisbane City Council GreenHeart CitySmart campaign will feature a display on protecting and conserving our precious resources.
